1. Listen to Mary and complete:

Hello ___________. Darling, something the matter? (______) they badgering you about that Manotti ____________ again? (_____) that the trouble? Well, try not to ____________ about it for awhile. (______) hate to see you get all tired and worried like this. Darling, why don’t you __________ your ____________ and you can sit yourself down comfortably and _____________. We certainly don’t have to go ____________ to dinner if you don’t want __________. I’ll call Molly and tell her you’re much too tired. Would you like me to _________ that? She’ll understand. I know she _________. Well, I’ll cook you some nice supper right here at ____________. There’s plenty of ____________ in the freezer. We’ll have a nice roast. It’ll just take a little longer to ____________, that’s all. While it’s in the oven, I’ll step out to the corner and _________ some vegetables. Oh! Oh, before I forget I must tell you. Old Mrs. Keating gave me the ring _________ today. You know where they have a ring on a bit of string and dangle it over your tummy? And guess what? It’s a _________. There’s absolutely no doubt about it she says. She’s never been _________ in her whole life. Isn’t that exciting?

Mrs Maloney : Hello, Love
[sighs]
Mrs Maloney : Darling? Something the matter? They badger you about that Menotti case again? Is that what’s the trouble?
[Pouring liquid]
[Chuckles]
Mrs Maloney : Well, try not to think about it for a while. I hate to see you get all tired and worried like this. Darling, why don’t you take off your coat? And then you can sit yourself down comfortably and-and relax. We certainly don’t have to go out to dinner if you don’t want to. I’ll call Molly and tell her you’re much too tired. Would you like me to do that? She’ll understand, I know she will. And I’ll cook you some nice supper right here at home. There’s plenty of meat in the freezer. We’ll have a nice roast. It’ll just take a little longer to cook, that’s all. While it’s in the oven, I’ll-I’ll slip out to the corner and get some vegetables. Oh! Oh, before I forget, I must tell you. Old Mrs Keating gave me the ring test today – You know, where they have a ring on a bit of string... and dangle it over your tummy? And guess what? It’s a boy. “There’s absolutely no doubt about it,” she says. She’s never been _________ in her whole life. Isn’t that exciting?

Travail de phonologie sur la bande vidéo.