Terra Numerica

This project is in line with the desire to spread the digital science culture in the Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur region. Its final ambition is the creation of a Cité du Numérique in 2026 in Sophia Antipolis.

Resources and educational paths are proposed on this site. For example, a slide show to understand the history of computer programs and the theme of chess.

"It is at night, when it is dark, Dr Calvin," said Elvex, "and there is suddenly light, although I can see no cause for the appearance of light. I see things that have no connection with what I conceive of as reality. I hear things. I react oddly. In searching my vocabulary for words to express what was happening, I came across the word 'dream'. Studying its meaning I finally came to the conclusion that I was dreaming."

"Robot Dreams", short story by Isaac ASIMOV (published in November 1986)
